Our Creed
Keep us, O God, from pettiness.

Let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.
May we put away all pretense, and meet each other face to face without self pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment. Let us take time for all things.
Make us to grow calm, serene, and gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight forward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are one.

And may we strive to touch and know the great common woman's heart of us all, and, O Lord God, let us not forget to be kind.

The Western Economic Outlook

Writing in "Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada," Mr. John F. Sweeting, Industrial Commissioner, Western Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, declares that confidence in the outlook for 1934 business is the dominant feature of the Western situation. Signs are not lacking in many parts of Canada that we are slowly emerging from the depression of the past four years. Improvement appears to be more noticeable in the Eastern parts of Canada, where some acceleration is apparent in the manufacturing industries. In the West where we depend almost entirely on agriculture, recovery will necessarily be more slow in coming. As a matter of fact we cannot hope for any great degree of prosperity whilst agriculture languishes. A good crop, fair prices for our wheat, and a market for our products are the needful factors. Mr. Sweeting says that improvement in trade, together with the realization that an upturn is now noticeable, has brought back the more satisfactory feeling that it is possible to consider that a period of trade and industrial expansion is, to a moderate degree, justified. Anticipated during the last few months, it is not difficult to venture the statement that every effort is being put forth to increase the volume of business throughout the West by methods that are most likely to react favourably.

It is, of course, too early to state what programme of new development is likely, though enquiries towards the end of last year appeared to indicate that some industrial expansion of note might take place during the present year, and that there may be more money available for building operations of all classes. In this relation, there should certainly be a distinct improvement over 1933 if necessary requirements are to be met in the erection of houses and commercial buildings, quite apart from any factory expansion. Any programme of moderate size would soon improve the home lumber market, which has been nearly at a standstill for some time, though the export business has been showing important increases.

The mining industry is looking for a steady improvement, and activities in relation to development would show a confident outlook in this respect. In British Columbia, Manitoba and western Ontario work continues on an increasingly larger scale, which will bring some important properties into production during the present year.

The Western agricultural situation is a matter of constant study of ways and means to bring it to a more stabilized level but, in the meanwhile, the Western agriculturist is bent on carrying on with ever-improving methods in the production of grain and livestock, having in view that ultimately his returns will justify confidence in Western Canada and its products. This is considered to be a reasonable attitude that will eventually realize greater value for farm products, more especially as the major effort is towards a higher standard that will meet export market requirements. This work is already showing results that further the belief that the correct course is being followed.

In Alberta and to some extent in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, drilling for oil and gas is to be continued. The Alberta programme is to be of considerable size, according to present indications, the more southern field getting the larger share of the proposed operations.

The sodium sulphate industry of Saskatchewan increased its production during 1933, and it is anticipated other deposits will be brought into operation during the present year. The clay areas of southern Saskatchewan continue to cause interest, awaiting further development at such time that capital and growing markets are available.

The fishing industry of the inland lakes of the three Prairie Provinces is being fully investigated in order that the marketing of the products of these lakes may possibly be put on a better footing, and efforts are being made to expand the marketable areas for whitefish, as well as for other classes of fish that are available in large quantities from the fresh water lakes of the West.

Device Beats Stop-Watch

Claimed To Clock Athletes Within Hundredth Of Second

A device whereby, it is claimed, it will be possible to clock athletes within one hundredth of a second has been invented by Dr. E. L. Harrington, head of the department of physics at the University of Saskatchewan. It applies the principle of the electric clock.

The new timer is said to be 20 times more accurate than a stop-watch. It calls for a 12-toothed wheel, placed between magnets attached to Saskatoon's electric power system. The alternating current of the system provides 120 impulses per second and the wheel would revolve 10 times a second. Each impulse moving, Dr. Harrington's device contains a counter like a speedometer, attached to the wheel, which automatically records the time between two pressures on a clutch. It can be read within a tenth of a revolution.

Hitherto the physics head has used the machine in his laboratory to record the gradually-decreasing energy of the radiations from radium.

Of 15 swimmers, including nine women, who attempted to swim the English channel in the summer, only one, a woman, was successful.

Saw Dreams Realized

Late Walter Wellman Made First Attempt To Fly Atlantic

The death of Walter Wellman in New York vividly-recalled to old timers in Chicago the long, anxious days in 1906, 1909 and 1910, when they waited for news of the audacious attempts of the pioneer aviator to reach the north pole and to cross the Atlantic ocean in a lighter-than-air ship. Four times the audacious newspaper man tried to reach the north pole, twice on foot, twice by aircraft. He was the first man to attempt to cross the Atlantic by air.

His aerial efforts were futile; accidents made them unsuccessful, but he lived to see the days when aircraft crossed both poles and when lighter and heavier than air craft spanned the Atlantic. His prophetic pioneering led the way.

Report Finding Of King Solomon's Mine

Rhodesian Prospector Refuses To Give Exact Location

Finding of King Solomon's mine, search for which has caused the death of thousands has been reported by a prospector in Broken Hill, Northern Rhodesia. He declares that he discovered it while following a wounded buck, but refuses to give the exact location except that it is in the centre of a mine concession. For more than 300 years men have been searching for the legendary mine. In Solomon's day it was said to be so fabulously rich in gold that silver became of little value in his court. The search has gradually narrowed down to an area of about 250,000 square miles. Arabs tortured many natives in an effort to extract information about it and many Portuguese tramped hundreds of miles in search of it.

SHE LOST 32 lbs.

New Frocks No Longer Worried Her

"How did she lose that 32 lbs. of fat?" is what you will be asking. Let her tell you herself—
"About 18 months ago I weighed 178 lbs.—which I can assure you annoyed me very much. Everything seemed a worry to me, especially new clothes. Nothing would fit me comfortably, and walking was unbearable. I was advised by a friend to try Kruschen Salts, and I did. During the first ten months I lost 28 lbs. of fat. Now, for the last 6 months my weight has been 146 lbs., and I feel much better in health. I have all my weight tickets to substantiate my statements." (Mrs. M. P. Kruschen helps blood, nerves, glands and body organs to function properly—you gain new strength and energy—feel year, younger—look better, work better.

Wales Takes Canadian Steel

First Order Will Likely Be Followed By Others

Canada for the first time in her industrial history, the Guardian says, is supplying South Wales with her steel in competition with her imports received from Belgium, Germany, France and Sweden.

The steamer Grey County recently arrived at Newport with 3,600 tons of Canadian steel billets and further cargoes of this product are expected.

"Although there is a heavy duty on foreign steel," the paper says, "South Wales still imports about 18,000 tons per week, which is used for conversion into tinplates. Canada recently gave an order for 1,000,000 boxes of Welsh tinplates and an endeavor is being made to create a reciprocal trade between South Wales and the Dominions."

Increased Demand For Rubber

Modern Motor Cars Using More Than Ever Before

The yearly output of from 30 to 40 rubber tires is required to supply tires and parts for each modern car, according to American engineers. In 1923 the average car used about 3 lbs. of rubber parts in addition to the rubber in tires and tubes, while 1933 models carry from 30 lbs. to 60 lbs. of rubber parts. More than 90 per cent. of modern cars use at least 30 lbs. to 40 lbs. of rubber made up into 11 or 12 000,000 boxes of Welsh tinplates and an endeavor is being made to create a reciprocal trade between South Wales and the Dominions."

Fishermen Perish In Storm

Eight Hundred Lives Lost When Storm Lashes Chinese Coast

Eight hundred fishermen were drowned in China when a storm off the coast of Kwangtung province sank 300 fishing junks.

A Chinese customs cruiser rushed to the scene and picked up a number of survivors, the reports said. Kwangtung province, lashed by a storm which was reported to have destroyed a fishing fleet, is the southernmost sea coast province of China. In it are located the cities of Canton and Hong Kong, and toward the northern border is the seaport of Swatow.

Agricultural Notes

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

The haricot or French bean is a native of South America, and was seen by Columbus in Cuba.

Spinach was a comparatively late arrival in Europe from Persia via the Moorish invasion of Spain.

Sugar is being made out of wood in a large-scale factory finished this year at Mannheim, Germany. At present the sugar is fed to livestock.

It was not until after the civil war in the U.S. that the tomato reached the northern states, although well-known in the south.

It took 300 years to popularize the potato in Europe, and only dire necessity forced the country cottager to include it among his vegetables.

The number of producing maple trees on Eastern Canadian farms is estimated at over 70,000,000, of which 24,000,000 will probably be tapped.

The cabbage in ancient Greece and Rome was regarded as a cure-all, and its power in dissipating the fumes of wine was not the least of its virtues.

A new strain of wheat which was claimed to resist extreme cold was evolved in Sweden but it was found to be susceptible to a disease to which the older types of wheat were resistant.

Judging by the course of raw sugar prices, it seems likely that sugar beet growers in Canada will receive returns per ton in 1934 at least equal to those of last fall.—The Agricultural Situation Bulletin.

Insect pests, notably the corn borer, influence the tonnage of sweet corn available for canning in Canada, but wherever this pest may reduce production in one area, the decrease may be replaced by increased plantings elsewhere.

The ultimate practical object in nutritional investigations of apple trees, as carried out at the Dominion experimental farms, is to discover methods of controlling the growth processes which determine the amount and quality of the fruit produced.

As a result of investigations at the Dominion Experimental Station at Fredericton, it has become quite apparent that the external appearance of the apple is not a reliable indication of maturity, and the necessity of obtaining some simple reliable test for maturity is emphasized.

The largest per cent increase in Canadian canned fruit and vegetables last year occurred in the following products: Cherries, 802; spaghetti, 681; evaporated apples, 587; asparagus, 218.4; peaches, 165; pickles, 97; pears, 35.6; tomatoes and tomato products, 30; and corn, 28.9 per cent.

The actual demonstrations showing that satisfactory apple tree growth can be secured under a properly managed soil system, as originally carried out at the Dominion experimental farms and stations, have resulted in the almost universal adoption of this system of orchard management.

The tomato in its original shape was uneven and warty. After its arrival in Europe in the sixteenth century from South America, its use was confined to Spain, Portugal, and Provence. Even as late as 1870 the tomato was rare in Paris. Last year Canada exported 1,359,725 cases, tomatoes and tomato products constituting the largest of Canada's canneries.

For the first 11 weeks of this year and last year (figures for the latter within brackets), the numbers of livestock shipped from Western to Eastern Canada were: Hogs, 57,995 (78,234); cattle, 18,554 (5,921); calves 148 (19); and sheep, 25,932 (21,480).

European Travel Costs Lower

Reduced Railway Fares As Well As Hotel Rates

Contrary to a wide-spread impression, European travel costs this year, despite foreign exchange rates, are actually lower than they were in the peak travel year of 1926, according to the Cunard & Anchor-Donaldson Lines.

This fact is revealed in the inclusive tour costs of the big travel agencies and the reduced fares on railways, automobiles and hotels. Private automobiles can be hired at a much lower price, the costs being reduced by 44% in Paris and in Rome by 46%, with comparative reductions in other countries.

Hotel rates average 36% less all over Europe than they were in 1926. In Paris the reduction is 33%, in London 21%, in Nice 26%, in Genoa 66%, in Rome 50%, in Naples 60%, in Lucerne 38%, in Interlaken 40%, in Heidelberg 25%, in Cologne 35%, in Amsterdam 41%, and in Brussels 23%.

Railway fares have been lowered in many countries. In Holland, for instance, the reduction has been as much as 22%, in France 30%, in Poland 25%, in Switzerland 30%.

Taxis have come down considerably. In Amsterdam, for instance, a taxi ride, regardless of the distance covered, costs you only 27c, half as much as in 1926.

Organized sight-seeing tours in Europe are considerably reduced. In Paris, they are 25%, in Nice 28%, in London 14%, in Brussels 22%, in Rome 25%, and in Heidelberg 37% less than in 1926.

These reductions more than offset any unfavourable effect of high exchange operating in some countries.

To Assist Livestock Industry

Want Reports On Detrimental Practices Of Livestock Buyers

To assist him in the presentation of the important information respecting the livestock industry to be submitted by joint representation of the government of the prairie provinces, Hon. W. C. Buckle, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, is desirous of having farmers interested in the production and marketing of livestock, report any specific example of where the producer is not the recipient of full market value for his livestock due to detrimental trade practices or other defect in the present system of marketing livestock. All statements should be accompanied by documentary proof. Opinions are valuable when based upon facts, but without them, are useless in a case of this kind.

It is expected that joint representations from the prairie provinces will be submitted to the Parliamentary Committee, Ottawa, very shortly. The Livestock Associations and the Livestock Pool have been invited to present available data to Hon. Mr. Buckle to be incorporated in a joint statement on behalf of the three prairie provinces.

Deplet War In Misleading Light, Says Montreal Speaker

Distribution by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire of reproductions of national war memorial pictures, some of which were said to depict war in a misleading light, showing it as something grand and glorious, came in for criticism at Montreal by Brooke Claxton, vice-president of the League of Nations Society in Canada, in an address to a women's meeting.

War memorial pictures showing the Ypres Cloth hall in ruins and the devastation on the western front were excellent, Mr. Claxton said, while others should not be distributed. Canadian children should be brought up with thoughts of peace, he claimed, and not be "pictorially hoodwinked" into believing war a thing of glory.

Toys Made By Prisoners

Many Danish Convicts Continue Trade After Their Release

Convicts in Denmark, land of Hans Christian Anderson, of fairy tale fame, have been put to making toys. They are allowed to use their imagination instead of helping in mass production. The toys are sold outside, and the men paid regular wages, part of which goes to the state for their keep, some to the Prisoners' Aid Society, a portion to dependants and a small amount to the prisoners, to be spent at the prison canteen. Many men are following the trade after their release.

OFF COLOUR? HOW IS YOUR LIVER?

Wake up your Liver Bile—Without Calomel

Your liver's a very small organ, but it certainly can put your digestive and eliminative organs out of order by refusing to pour out its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. You can't completely correct this condition by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative or chewing gum, or roughage. When they've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant. Carter's Little Liver Pills will soon bring back the sunshine into your life. They're purely vegetable. Safe, sure. Ask for them by name. Refuse substitutes. 25c at all druggists.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Bowman and an advertising agent, who was with Camilla has submitted some of her work, and for her and tell her they have a new account which requires unusual treatment of juvenile art. The critics were enthusiastic about her work, and Mr. Weeks offers her a salary of $50.00 a week to start and a prospect of having it doubled. She tells Peter of her good fortune in securing employment. Mrs. Hoyt is also informed that Camilla has obtained work and is going to leave the Hoyt household. Avis has stopped in to find excitement and Camilla walked out into the mellow autumn sunshine, seeing nothing, oblivious of sounds and feeling paralyzed. She avoided traffic by instinct and boarded the right car from habit. Nothing mattered.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

She remained with him for another hour, striving to find the magic word or gesture that would break this spell of their disenchantment, but he remained aloof and impersonal. There was no ecstatic hour of murmured endearments and close embraces, while they discussed their work and hopes and plans. There was no deeply poignant meeting of blue and brown eyes, eloquent with wordless meanings.

She might have seen any girl who had stopped in and interrupted his work, any girl whom he would have entertained with desultory words and a not too gracious manner—except for the first ten minutes which had been followed by their ugly quarrel.

Their farewell was like an act in a play which had left exciting too many times to find excitement any more. Camilla walked out into the mellow autumn sunshine, seeing nothing, oblivious of sounds and feeling paralyzed. She avoided traffic by instinct and boarded the right car from habit. Nothing mattered.

Her world had turned upside down. She and Peter had said unkind words to each other, their eyes had avoided each other in shame instead of meeting with sympathy. Camilla had lost the most precious, happy intimacy which had made any hope possible and every denial a promise. Her eyes stared out the window at the passing landscape. Buildings, houses, trees, lamp posts, were blurred like a photograph that was badly out of focus. No object was distinguishable.

When Camilla had gone, Peter sank into a chair and dropped his head into his hands. In his gesture was all the weariness and despair of his whole past. Never had life seemed so futile and ambition such a mockery. He might have known it would be like that, he told himself bitterly. Camilla had made practical use of her talent, and within a few weeks was offering to take care of him. He was a dreamer who couldn't even take care of himself.

He believed it was his pride that was hurt because he couldn't support the woman he loved, but it was just common human jealousy which gnawed in Peter's mind. Only the deadly poison of jealousy could so distort both love and pride. But the most malignant factor in jealousy is that it cannot be admitted, and therefore is difficult to cure.

The more Peter brooded over his situation, the more his anger grew, and his wrath settled upon Camilla because she was the object of his jealousy and of his overwhelming desire to succeed at the same time.

A light knocking at the door startled him violently, so deeply was he sunk into the absorbing quicksand of despair. He aroused himself with an effort and thought, "Camilla has come back to try to make it right. Well, she can't. I'm sick of it all."

The knocking was repeated, more imperative. He called crossly, "Come in."

The door opened and his hostile eyes met the pleasant greeting in Avis'.

"Hello, everyone," she called cheerfully, then stopped with an inquiring glance around the room. "Oh, I thought Camilla was here. I ran in to ask you both to have a little supper with me. I'm alone — and lonely."

"Yes, she was here," Peter replied tonelessly, and added, "but she had to leave early."

"Well, it's a good thing I came over in time to pull you out of your gloom. Another half hour and you would have been in a bad way. Her letter concealed her own suspicions of the situation and her good humor encouraged Peter. "All the more reason, then, why you should have supper with me, anyway. That's just one of the disadvantages of having a gentle wife. Of course, she can't afford to spend all her time chipping you up."

"Oh, I'm all right," he insisted, smoothing back the bright, disordered curls with a big, shapely hand. "Tired, I guess."

"Of course, you are. You've worked all day, haven't you? Come along."

He obeyed meekly. Following Avis across the hall had got to be something of a habit. Rather a pleasant habit, too.

Avis was a clever actress. To prove that she had anticipated two guests for supper, she removed one of the plates from the table that was laid for three. She also talked easily and sparingly while she served Peter unobtrusively. Here was a "riff within the lute" of Peter's marriage, and she drew her wedge in cautiously. She restored his tranquility, made him comfortable and entertained him quietly. Just what he needed.

When they left the table, Avis suggested without insistence, "You surely don't need to work tonight. You should rest. Sit down and be comfy for awhile. Is your piece all most finished?" She turned the volume low on the radio, and a sentimental voice crooned, "You take me to Paradise." Then she lit a cigarette and held it to his lips. He took it with an amused laugh. She fired another for herself and dropped down lightly on the opposite end of the divan, arranging the pillows for her comfort.

It was strange how Avis, served and pampered and indulged, found her greatest pleasure in serving and humoring this young giant who looked as if he had been made to struggle with physical force instead of molding bits of clay. The ignominy of love—last makes servants of parasites and weaklings of slaves.

He blew smoke into space, with contentment. "Yes, I'll finish this work. I had planned to have it bronzed before sending it to the exhibit," pensively.

"Of course, you should. Why not?"

"That costs money," he replied, after a moment's hesitation, and met her glance defiantly. "So, I'll enter it as it is."

"Don't be absurd," she reproved him gently. "What's a little saving like that, if it hurts your chance to win?"

"I can't save what I don't have," enigmatically.

"Well, wouldn't it pay you to borrow money on a chance like this?"

Besides, supposing that you don't win the prize, you can put it into marble and sell it as you suggested before."

He made a gesture of hopelessness. "Who is going to loan money to a fellow who has made a clay figure, on the chance that it will win him a prize or that he might copy it in marble and perhaps find a buyer for it? That's all the collateral I have to offer. Did you ever hear of a financier who would take such a long chance as that?"

"A better guarantee would be your talent and ambition," she suggested.

He laughed ironically. "Who would believe that I had anything so valuable as that?"

"I know you have." Her eyes held his gaze significantly.

"Oh—that!" he dismissed the implication of her words, instantly. And added presently, "Funny how the women insist upon taking care of me. What's the matter with me, anyway?"

"Women?" Avis asked vaguely.

"Oh, Camilla and I just had a row about that afternoon," he confessed bluntly. "She wanted me to let her help me with her money. Of course, she isn't making a fortune, but I guess she could spare a little. She thinks I should accept it, but what kind of a fellow wants his wife to keep him, even if he is trying to do something worthwhile? That wasn't in our agreement in the first place."

Avis exulted, but managed to keep her voice matter-of-fact and as impersonal as if she were answering Camilla herself when she said, "I think you are quite right about that. Peter. So many fellows are letting down their pride these days, and allowing their wives to do it all. Of course you don't want to do that. I admire a man with some sand."

"Well, I have as much right to be independent as she has — and more. She wouldn't let me help her if she needed it, as things are with me now. Then why should I accept her money?"

"I think you are both right, under the circumstances. I see her point exactly." Avis was shrewd, "—but I also see yours."

"I'm glad somebody does," he shrugged. "Well, that's that. What I think I had better do is to get a good honest job and go to work at something that turns to gold at the magic touch of toil."

"At what?"

"That's it—what. And where? Jobs being the least plentiful thing in the world just now, that complicates the problem even better."

"Then don't be silly, Peter. Let me tell you something. Will you listen?"

"With both ears," he grinned.

"I'm beginning to believe the supposition is true that genuine artists haven't a grain of business sense—you being the first and best example I know."

"Is that all you have to tell me? I know that already," disdainfully.

"Well, that's a good start. You admit the truth. Then, see here! Did you ever realize that no business success is ever founded on hope and ambition and ability, alone? Every success has to have a financial foundation. Yet of all the stupid people in the world, artists imagine that they are not self-made unless they starve and freeze and live absolutely independent of all the rest of the world. Is that sense?" she demanded.

"Put into words, it doesn't sound practical," Peter admitted. "But what else can they do? You think I should take my wife's money, then?"

"Absolutely not. No more than a man with a lot of pride would take his wife's money to go into any business. But he would borrow money and sell stock for a foundation, and then set out to work to make good. Your talent and your future are just as good risks as any business, and if you were as practical as you are artistic, you would borrow money to secure your peace of mind and a

Quick Relief Now From Neuralgia

JACK, I'M TO SEE CLARK ABOUT THAT BIG ORDER IN 40 MINUTES AND I HAVE TERRIBLE NEURITIS. WHAT CAN I DO?

DON'T WORRY! GET SOME ASPIRIN. TWO TABLETS WILL STOP THAT PAIN IN A FEW MINUTES.

WELL, JACK, I GOT THE ORDER! YES, FELT FIT AS A FIDDLE. YOU SET, ALL ALRIGHT WHEN I WANT QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

Real ASPIRIN Starts Taking Hold in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN'S quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

WHY ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Notice that BEFORE it touches bottom, it has started to disintegrate.

What it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence, its fast action.

comfortable living, and then give yourself to your work. You owe that to yourself and Camilla."

Peter sighed. "I had hoped to make it alone."

"You are stubborn, aren't you?" Avis smiled.

"All right, granting that you are right and my future is worth an investment, who else could be convinced?"

"No one else needs to be," she replied casually, intent with lighting another cigarette. "I have money to invest, and right now I don't know a safer place to put it than in the career of Peter Anson, famous American sculptor of the future!"

Little Helps For This Week

"We have waited for the Lord and He will save us; this is the Lord; we have waited for Him and we will be glad in His salvation." Isaiah 25:9.

Blest are the humble souls that wait

With sweet submission to His will.

Harmonious all their passions move,

And in the midst of storms are still.

Do not be discouraged at your faults, hear with yourself in correcting them as you would with your neighbor. Lay aside this armor of your mind which exhausts your body and leads you to commit errors.

Accustom yourself gradually to carry prayer into all your daily occupations. Speak, move, work in peace, as if you were in prayer, as indeed you ought to be. Do everything without excitement, by the spirit of grace. As soon as you perceive your natural impetuosity gliding in, retire quietly within where there is the kingdom of God. Listen to the leadings of grace, then do and say nothing but what the Holy Spirit will put into your heart. You will find that you will become more tranquil, that your words will be fewer and more effectual, and that with less effort you will accomplish more good.—Fenelon.

Nation Has Grown Catnip Since Crown Princess Set Fashion

A reviewer of an Englishman's garden book says: "Snow apparently never interferes with the English gardener's winter planning. And then, such strange things catch the English gardener's fancy. Would it, for instance, make you want catnip in your garden if you were told that the Princess Margaret, daughter of the Duke of Connaught, took a plant of catnip with her when she became the crown princess of Sweden and that since then every loyal Swede gently tends a bed of catnip, like as not a lineal descendant of the royal origin?"

A Streamlined Bullet

War Office Experts Taking Keen Interest In Tests

A new streamlined bullet was tested on the Blisley ranges recently, in which war office experts are taking the keenest interest. Skilled riflemen showed that they could place shots on the target within two feet of each other at 1,000 yards and the wind had 25 per cent. less effect on the bullets than on the old-style bullets. The new bullet has a range of more than 5,000 yards as against the 3,000 yard range of the old bullet. It is made of a secret alloy.

The Spencer Coals received a drubbing by the Grads in their first game on Saturday night, the Edmonton girls making an even century of points to 39 for the girls from the windy city. The second game on Monday night was close enough to suit anybody, the Grads just nosing out a win.

That was a funny accident in a

Down went the runner, for the count, and then off to the hospital. But that is not all. The ball, after striking Bossard, caromed off his ivory and flew into the stands where it landed on the nose of a lady fan—breaking it!

Large Wheat Stocks

The World Wheat Commission estimates that on August 1, 1934, world wheat stocks will be the largest on record—about 1,140,000,000 bushels.

The world net exports of wheat and flour in the 1933-34 crop year, states the report, appeared likely to be 335,000,000 bushels compared with the London Wheat Agreement estimate of 560,000,000.

The carryovers in the overseas exporting countries will be approximately 645,000,000 bushels, allocated as follows:—

Argentina 143,000,000; Australia 60,000,000; Canada 187,000,000; United States 255,000,000.

This compares with the carryover of the 1933 crop year of 744,000,000, and in 1932 650,000,000 bushels and an average of the years from 1922 to 1928 of 256,000,000 bushels.
